Last-Day Hopefuls Swell School Race

Three candidates who filed Wednesday for vacancies coming up on the Corsicana Public Schools Board of Trustees swelled the roster to seven hopefuls seeking three posts.

Filing by the deadline Wednesday were the Rev. George Willis and J. W. Albrecht, according to Euin Frank, assistant supt. for business.

Leland Cook had filed earlier Wednesday morning.

Already in the race were Hugh Fullerton, Jr., one of the incumbents; and other new candidates Neilan French, Raymond Hampel, and Albert B. Sanders.

The election will be held April 3 in eight polling places, at Crockett School, the Community Center, Travis School, Navarro County Courthouse, Bowie School, Fannin School, and in Roane and Richland.

New Phone Directories

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will begin March 16 distributing new telephone directories to all customers in Corsicana, according to Ron Ernest, Manager for the telephone company.

Ernest said the new directory is a good [illegible]rometer of the growth and economic [illegible]ress being made in the Corsicana [illegible]a. As might be expected, this year's directory is lar[illegible] than the one a year ago.

The new Corsicana directory will include 54 pages of alphabetical listings, and 100 Yellow Pages. A total press run of 19,725 will be made.

Ernest said he hoped all Southwestern Bell customers would use the new directory for all it's worth. "With a new directory, virtually all the numbers in Corsicana are listed, and we hope everyone will use it to avoid wrong numbers."

The cover on this year's Corsicana is an attractive four-color photograph at a lake near twilight, with auburn and purple hues interrupted by a silhouetted couple enjoying a typically Texas sunset.

Rail Strike Averted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union negotiators in a nationwide railroad dispute agreed today to resume talks after a brief breakdown. They said no strike was imminent.

"If I had scheduled a strike I wouldn't tell newsmen," said President Charles Luna of the United Transportation Union.

He said negotiators, who had unexpectedly walked out of the Labor Department after 18 hours of nearly continuous, temper-fraying talks, would be back at the bargaining table at 4 p.m.

Both he and Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery said they were hopeful of a settlement.

All-American

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas is among 11 communities awarded the All-America City title today in a nationwide competition sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look magazine.

The awards are conferred annually for achievements in upgrading the quality of community life by citizen teamwork.

Port Arthur, Tex., was cited for honorable mention.

Dallas was picked because of its efforts to give thousands of citizens a direct voice in improving the city through neighborhood meetings as shown through Goals for Dallas, a blueprint of the city's needs. The Crossroads Community Center, police storefront centers and the new regional airport were mentioned.

Nixon Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will hold a news conference on foreign policy at 9 p.m. EST today, the White House announced Wednesday.

The 30-minute session will be carried live by major radio and television networks.

Too-Poor-to-Pay Ruling to Affect Police Fines Here

BETTY JEAN CLAY
Sun Staff Writer

Police Chief Doug Hightower said Thursday his department will have to "devise some method of collection" of fines following a Supreme Court ruling Tuesday that a man cannot be imprisoned because he is too poor to pay his traffic fines.

"I don't know yet what it will be. I will have to do some research on the ruling and see what can be done," Chief Hightower said. He said a first step will be to confer with City Attorney Don Pevehouse about the Supreme Court ruling and see if the city's legal advisor can draft a form to ne signed by a person whereby he agrees to pay out a fine over a series of installments.

"We are going to comply with the Supreme Court ruling as far as we can. That is, we will comply with it in the cases that it (the ruling) will apply to," he said, adding that there must be some method to make a determination of who "is too poor to pay a fine imposed against him and who just says he is too poor."

Chief Hightower elaborated: "I think what this means is it will apply to people who are penniless or unemployed. That's the way I think the ruling will be construed." He said until he researches the ruling and the effect further in detail he believes that "if a person has a job and the means to pay a fine, he will pay it or go to jail."

"I have known several cases where a person has announced in court on being fined that he has no money. People will say 'I can't pay so I guess I will have to lay it out in jail'. And many times before we get them inside the jail, they 'discover' they have money in their pocket and they can pay the fine before they will be locked up. On other occasions, they have come up with the money after being in jail several hours."

Chief Hightower said it was his understanding that once a person was fined and police released them from custody upon their agreeing to pay the fine at a stipulated time, or over a period of time, there was not much police could do to effect collection if the person didn't pay as agreed or refused to pay. "It becomes a civil matter then; we can't arrest the person again for not paying; we would have to sue in civil court to try to collect and that really creates problems."

Chief Hightower said it had been a practice, in some instances, to allow a person fined to have some time to pay the fine rather than going to jail. In the main, people shown this consideration have kept their word and returned as agreed to pay the fine, but this is not true in all instances by any means.

The police chief said the department has in its files a stack of "75 to 100 cards" on people who had been released under such agreements to come back and pay the fines who may be paid part of the fine, and never paid the balance, or may not have paid any portion of the fine. "These cards go back as far as 1965. Some of the people have disappeared, they have moved away, or vanished we don't know where, and there is no way to collect when we can't find them," he said.

For the time being, Chief Hightower said if someone is fined in court and pleas poverty, he or the next subordinant officer will interview them and make a determination "if he actually is penniless or jobless and too poor to pay, and if he is then under the ruling as we understand it, he cannot be confined in jail." He added if the interview persuades him the person can pay, but just doesn't want to and hopes to avoid paying by claiming poverty, and won't agree to an installment-payment plan, then he can be placed in jail to lay out the fine at $5 a day, or until the fine due is paid.

Hawkins Supports Tuition Increase

Hopes to Exempt Foreign Students in Senate Version

By SAM PENDERGRAST
Editor of The Sun

State Rep. Jack Hawkins of Groesbeck was contacted at press time by The Daily Sun as he was preparing to cast his vote in favor of a state college tuition increase and a record $496 million dollar tax bill.

Rep. Hawkins told The Daily Sun both bills had been passed on first and second readings by the House of Representatives yesterday and today, and "I don't think there's any doubt that both bills will pass."

See Related Story, Page 9A

He said the bill increasing tuition in state colleges is basically that sponsored by Grant Jones of Abilene, with changes in the amount of increase originally specified.

Final form, he said, sets tuition for Texas resident students at $7 per semester hour (or $105 for an average 15-hour schedule) and $47 for non-resident students (or $705 for the average 15-hour schedule).

He said foreign students would be considered non-residents "In the manner in which the bill was passed." But he said "Personally, I would favor having foreign students exempted from non-resident status, and I would hope we can influence the Senate to make some such arrangement in the final bill."

He said he expects a great deal of "working over" by the Senate on both the tuition bill and the $496 million tax bill.

One amendment to the tuition bill would tend to give back to schools and students with one hand part of what was taken away by the other hand. Rep. Hawkins noted that a provision, suggested by Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville, was added under which 50 cents of the cost of each hour of resident tuition and $3 of the cost of each hour of non-resident tuition would be set aside for a scholarship fund to be administered by the college into which the tuition is paid.

Hawkins said "That would give the colleges quite a bit of leeway for providing for worthy students."

Basic provisions of the tax bill are the moves to raise the sales tax from 3.25 per cent to 4 per cent, and to increase the franchise tax nearly 100 per cent.

Jack Hawkins

Hawkins said "We're getting the tax bill out faster than I can ever recall", implying that the speed of introduction will leave more time for making adjustments in specific aspects of the bill.

Detailed Census Report Shows Increase in County Home-Owners

More people in Navarro County own their home today than in 1960, according to Census Bureau figures released today, which give more detailed information about the Navarro County population.

The 1970 census counted 12,420 housing units in the county, 7,513 of them occupied by owners, 3,446 occupied by tenants and 1,461 vacant. These included vacant units for seasonal use. The proportion occupied by owners in 1970 was 60.5 per cent, compared with 55.8 per cent in 1960.

Navarro County's 1970 population was 31,150, down 9.5 per cent from the 1960 figure of 34,423. This population was classified as 64.1 per cent urban and 35.9 per cent rural.

The 1970 census counted 23,938 white persons in Navarro County, 76.8 per cent of the total; 7,089 Negores, and 123 persons of other races. In 1960, 75.1 per cent of the population was white.

The census showed 2,274 children under 5 years; 7,058 ages 5 through 17; 16,040 ages 18 through 64; and 5,778 were 65 and older. The population 14 and over included 15,446 married people, 3,089 widowed, 827 divorced, and 4,780 never married.

There were 10,959 households with 30,193 persons, including 2,459 one-person households. In addition, 957 persons were living in group quarters.

Among year-round dwelling units there were 11,116 single family houses, 1,146 units in multi-unit buildings, and 127 mobile homes or trailers. The percentage of occupied units with more than one person per room was 7.8, compared with 11.2 in 1960. In occupied housing units 9,494 had piped water, toilet and bath, while 1,465 lacked some or all plumbing.

The median value of owner-occupied houses in Navarro County was $7,500, compared with $5,700 in 1960. The median rent paid by tenants in 1970 was $43 per month, compared with $43 in 1960. Half were mover and half below the median figures.

South Shows Migratory Census Gain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The South showed a migratory population gain in the 1960s for the first time in a century, the Census Bureau says, but the exodus of blacks was not slowed significantly.

Although picking up a net gain of 500,000 persons through migration, the 166 Southern states lost blacks at the rate of 140,000 a year, a bureau report showed Wednesday. This contrasted with earlier Census estimates that heavy migration of blacks from the South during the 1940s and 1950s had been cut to about 88,000 a year.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans, in releasing the report, said continued high migration of blacks indicated Negroes were searching for better jobs or higher welfare benefits than offered in the South.

The half-million gain through migration was first since Civil War times for the South, the nation's most heavily populated region.

Most of those moving into the South in the '60s were whites, and most went to Florida, Maryland, Virginia, Texas and Georgia. Most of the blacks leaving the region during the decade were from the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Blacks still make up 19 per cent of Southern population, about the same as in 1960.

GARDENER'S GUIDE

By GENE SEARS
County Agricultural Agent

VEGETABLE GARDEN: March is the time to plant such vegetables as radishes, lettuce, pinto, lima, snap and b er beans, sweet corn, cucumbers, okra, watermelons, and cantaloupes. Tomato, egg plants, and pepper can be transplanted to the garden, but should be protected against frost. The best variety for our county is found in a useful garden leaflet which may be obtained free from the county agent's office.

Again we stress the importance of planning your garden on paper so that you may keep account of when something was planted. By staggering the planting date of a given vegetable, the fresh vegetables can be harvested over a longer period of time.

Early planted vegetables should be carefully watched for various insects. We feel that plant lice could show up now and do some damage to the garden. Before buying a chemical, we suggest that you know more about your problem. Some chemicals should not be used on edible vegetables regardless of whether they control the insect. This is true because the vegetable could cause sickness or even worse. We have a leaflet, MP-675, Insect Control, which tells which chemical is safe and how long you must wait after applying before using; others are safe.

Chemical treatment for controlling insects will do the most good when applied with a minimum of 24 hours before a rain. The chemicals which are used daily for controlling insects are very dangerous and should be treated with extreme care.

FRUIT: If you have any fruit trees, you should begin to get your sprayer ready for use. We have seen a few peach and plum trees in the pink bud and some in the bloom stage. The pink bud stage is when the bud is starting to swell and turns to a pink color. This happens just before the bud starts to grow. The pink bud stage is the time the first application of chemical is made for brown rot and peach twig borer. This is the problem that many see when the fruit starts to ripen and begin to rot on one side. It is also the problem that you have seen the worm inside the ripe fruit. Many of the plums have already passed this stage, but would be good to put the first application on the tree even if it is in the bloom stage.

The complete spray schedule for peaches, plums, apples, pears, pecans, and grapes is available free in leaflet 245. The disease also attacks as many as 75 other hosts.

Damage occurs as blossom blight, twig blight, girdling of branches or, in some cases, killing of entire trees.

The disease first appears as blossom blight. Infected blossoms become water-soaked and turn dark brown. Bacterial progresses down the fruit stem, causing the infected area to become water-soaked and appear dark green.

Twig blight is similar in its spread to blossom blight. Infected twigs become green and look "oily". Bak sinks in and the wood underneath turns dark brown.

Leaf blight occurs commonly on sucker growth and on non-bearing trees. Infection begins along the leaf and margin. Under optimum conditions, bacteria will extend from the leaf into the leaf stem and eventually into the twig.

To control fire blight, prune infected portions of the plant four to six inches below the last visible symptoms. When cuts are larger than two inches in diameter, paint them with white-lead paint, prepared tree paint, or with a coal-tar creosote paint.

Paint disinfects and protects the wound and cut, but take care not to cover live bark.

All pruning equipment should be dipped in a ten percent household bleach for two seconds to prevent spreading the bacteria from one cut to another.

To prevent the bleach from corroding tools, dip them in a light oil and wipe clean at the end of each day.

Other control measures include the use of a bordeaux mixture, Zineb, and antibiotics.

YARD: During March, there are several things the home gardener should do to the home grounds. We will make an effort to remind you of these steps and give you information to improve your yard.

Anyone that is establishing a new lawn should get the soil prepared before sodding or seeding.

A copy of B-203 "Home Lawns" maybe obtained from the county agents office for 15 cents.

We are seeing a variety of different weeds appearing in the lawn. These can be controlled in several ways (1) using a hoe (2) close mowing will help (3) use of chemicals. I feel certain that everyone is interested in the easy way, but there is no easy way. Some of the weeds in a lawn can be controlled lith 2,4,D. Be sure and not use the sprayer for anything else after putting 2,4,D in it because 2,4,D will damage many plants in addition to weeds.

Now is a good time to remove mistletoe from any trees in the yard. Mistletoe is a parasitic plant which weakens a tree and could help to kill the tree. There is no chemical that will control the parasite, but pruning will help. Trees that more frequently have mistletoe include hackberry, oak, elm, and mesquite and a few others.

Continue setting out any new shrubs and trees.

Aunt Louise

My column today could be titled Forward Thrust or Progress in Motion.

There is much credit due to the local Chamber of Commerce, active citizens and leaders throughout the Golden Circle Area, which we all know is good and as it should be ... time stands still for no one.

Being a sentimental person I have mixed emotions. I loved the old library and wished the building could have been restored instead of being torn down. This doesn't mean that I am not extremely proud of the new one and its contribution and importance to our community.

When the twins were in the ninth grade in school I bought the Harry Clowe home on West Second Avenue. While we were closing the deal at the Corsicana Federal Savings and Loan Association Harry made the remark that he should add an extra thousand dollars on the price paid.

I asked him why and he replied, "It is worth that much to have Wossum's Grocery Store so handy to shop."

Last week Mike was carrying the garbage out front when he noticed that a truck was being loaded at Wossum's and he wondered why.

My curiousity got the best of me so I went down to find out.

The Wossum's had sold their store and were retiring!

Mr. Herman Wossum came to Corsicana in 1939 from Alters, Oklahoma. He bought a confectionery located in the old Kyburn Cobb Building on Collins. He later sold out and went to work for Jimmy Dill, manager of the Whitten Grocery, 15th and 1st. From there he went to work for Ship and Bunch.

Finally he bought a grocery store from Mr. Wright that was formerly owned by Robert Owens.

In the beginning it was a small ice house and a shade tree grocery. It grew in business until they had to hire someone to buard the business at night until a building could be built. For the past twenty one years it has been known as Wossum's Grocery and Market.

It was in the grocery store that Juanita, then working at K Wolens, met Herman. They started dating and the romance blossomed into love and they were married December 24, 1954. Since that time she has worked in the store and both have made a host of friends.

People who worked in town found it a handy and most pleasant place to shop on their way home from work.

Families included the Stuart Beebees, George Hudsons, Harry Clowes, Margie and Bob Hambelton, Boyds, Grandmother David, Buzz Bowmans, Johnnie Grants, Albert Lanes, Eula Mae Evans, Elizabeth Kelton, Mrs. E. C. Mitchell, C. H. Culver, Mrs. Byrd Williard, Mrs. Jewell McDonald .... R. B. "Smiley" Jones stopped by each week for his favorite brand of bacon... the George McDonalds for home made butter... the list could go on and on, much too long to print.

The Wossums have watched the twins grow to be men and claim them for their own. They fell in love with Pat's wife, Sharon, at first sight. Juanita and Sharon had a common bond ... love for people and "cats".

The Wossums will be missed by many... you were wrong, Harry, their friendship has been worth much more than a thousand dollars, it is the kind that money can't buy.

I am one of the lucky ones... will be able to visit with them "over the back fence."

Happy retirement! Contentment, serenity and good health is my prayer for you both.

Will close with a cheerful note. Christmas we received a card addressed to Grandma Foster, it was signed Love, August.

August is the name of Pat and Sharon's cat that they are so fond of. They got him out of a tub at a grocery store in Austin. The sign read "Free Kittens."

When they come to visit August sleeps on the foot of yours truly's bed. I am firmly convinced that the Pat Fosters are jealous. Smile.

Now, you send me a story. Love to hear from you.

See you in Thursday's Daily Sun.

To steal a phrase...."Happiness is"....welcoming....

Benny Joe Robinson back to Corsicana as the new manager of the Safeway Grocery Store.

When I stopped in last Monday he spotted me first and his first question was, "How are the twins?"

After listening to me for ?????? many minutes, he told me how glad he was to come back "home."

We are glad that you are back home too, and knowing Benny Joe he will be an asset to the store as well as to our community.

Leaving Safeway our next stop was Mile's Furniture Company. Basil Coe was in such a "talkative" mood Charles Barnaby and I, good listeners, did not have much chance to say anything.

I don't blame Basil for being so proud to have Charles on his sales staff. I've known Charles for a long time and he is truly a talented decorator. His mother is a friend of mine, a kind and gracious lady who has befriended me on many occasions.

The Stylette Beauty Salon is fortunate to have lovely Linda Steeley return as an operator. I'm sure her many friends and customers will agree with me. I met her parents once when I was visiting with her brother, Don, manager of the Dixie Finance Company.

A phone call from good friend Dr. Will Miller, who is home and improving daily. Keep walking Doc! I've walked from 134 pounds to 105 ... remember? You told me I'd live forever! (insert for you who would like to lose weight ... go slow ... it took me over 15 months).

Last but not least... the many compliments we receive daily on the improvement of the local news coverage, editorials, comment, Action Line, etc., in our paper.

Tucker, Sam, Tim and others ... your efforts have not been in vain. Your sales staff is proud of you too. Our job has been made easier because of you ... and MOST IMPORTANT is the fact that the advertisers are reporting more and more response from their advertising.

Raymond Hampel (Navarro Co. Elec. Co-Op) and Joe Nussbaum, (Little Transfer & Storage) asked me if I brought the shower of rain that we had last week. I said yes, as I had planted some English Ivy on my fence and wanted it to sprout and grow. They said, "Plant some more."

If wishes could make it rain we will have received our share by the time this column appears. If we have sleet or snow or a freeze, remember I did not wish or pray for that!

The Foster family are a step ahead in the proposed Clean-Up Drive. With the help of Mike, my future daughter-in-law, Sue Gray, and yours truly, we raked twenty bags of leaves, and trimmed the grape vine over the weekend. Sue and Mike are young and can take it ... but oh my poor aching back!

Real nice of Lin Warthan and other busy people to take out and pass out banners for us to wear supporting Public School Week. Remember to wear yours and be sure to visit the new Corsicana High School Sunday ... the formal opening.

Lula Mae Redden, cook at the First National Bank, City, stopped me in front of Zale's Jewelers last Monday. She said, "Oh, Aunt Louise, I look forward to getting the paper every day and I love reading your stories."

She seemed so nice, betcha she is a good cook!

'Ole time sayings:

"When saving for old age, be sure to lay up a few pleasant thoughts."

"Do not stop with doing necessary kindnesses; the unnecessary ones are of far greater importance."

"A man may fall and rise again, but a man who is reconciled is truly vanquished." ... Schiller.

We received a letter from son Pat, and Sharon. They said if possible they would come home this weekend. Sharon sent the following, author unknown, and she said she thought it was so beautiful that she hoped I could use it in my column. I agree with her, as usual.

"We are all messy rooms
sometimes,

Out of order. And we hide it!
And that's because we need
Faith, Love, Peace, and each other."

Received some lovely mail ... keep the cards and letters coming ... they will be printed.

Hope the next one is from YOU.

Good Samaritans Still Live And Bless A Needy World

Injustice, Hunger, Greed and Hate the Chief Enemies of Mankind — Spiritual Cures Needed to End Misery — Commitment and Patience Still Work Miracles and and Spread Goodwill

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

The International Sunday School lesson for March 7 is based on the famous Parable of the Good Samaritan. It bears the title, "Living by the Law of Love." The Memory Selection is suggested: "Owe no one anything, except to love one another; for he who loves his neighbor has fulfilled the law" (Romans 13:8).

In this lesson we find Jesus being challenged by an ecclesiastical lawyer. The Jewish people were above everything interested in religious problems. They fought idolatry until they had conquered it. Throughout the centuries, in the midst of persecutions indescribable, they have stood fast for the faith. Christianity is that interpretation of the basic Jewish religion which holds that Jesus, the carpenter of Nazareth, was the Son of God, the Messiah long promised for the world's salvation.

Mercy The Issue

The narrative of this lesson can be quickly related. A man was going down "from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance there came down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee. Which now of these three (asked Jesus) . . . was neighbor unto him that fell among the thieves? And he (the questioner) said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise."

Passing By

This long quotation of Scripture appears justified because of the tremendous influence the Parable of the Good Samaritan has played on Christian behavior through the ages. The priest was one of the highest ranking officials in the religion of that day. Levites were laymen, officials of the Church and members of an hereditary order of churchmen which, among their important duties, was singing in the Temple choir.

Both of these when they came upon the stricken man lying by the wayside looked at him and passed by on the other side. But a Samaritan ministered to the man, took him to an inn, provided for his rest and food for some days to come.

The Sunday School lesson for March 7 is entitled "Living by the Law of Love." Luke 10:25-37.

(Copyright by The International Council of Religious Education, New York, N. Y.)

Now which was the neighbor, asked Jesus, of this man who fell among thieves?

There was only one answer. He that showed mercy on the stricken stranger. There you have your answer, said Jesus. Show mercy, be helpful, and you will fulfill God's law and serve your fellowman.

Jesus set up a golden rule which is that we must love God with all our heart, soul, strength and mind, and our neighbor as ourself. To declare our love for God is not enough unless we do something Godlike and humane. We are not only to be good, but to be good for something. The way best to serve God is to serve our fellowmen.

The Good Samaritan

We look at the Samaritan, and few Bible readers realize that there was a parable, a hidden rebuke, in the fact that the man who acted in a merciful and Godlike fashion was a Samaritan, for the Samaritans were hated by the Jews — and it must be said in all justice that the Jews were hated by the Samaritans.

When the ten tribes to the north were carried off into captivity by the Assyrians, the conquerors left a group that might have been called the dregs of society. They were not worth taking down to the slave markets of the Assyrians and putting them up for sale. Also, there were people among the Assyrians that the nation wanted to be rid of, and these they moved back, and the two degraded groups mixed with each other, intermarried and became altogether degraded. That Jesus should have pointed the accusing finger at priest and Levite who paid no attention to the wounded man and made the hero of his parable a Samaritan, was undoubtedly intended both as a lesson and a rebuke. The Samaritans were a degraded group. Most self-respecting Jews on a journey north or south would not deign to pass through the Samaritan territory but crossed to the other side of the Jordan so as not to come in contact with these degraded and hated people.

This is a lesson on how we should put God's law of love into operation whenever we find an opportunity to do so.

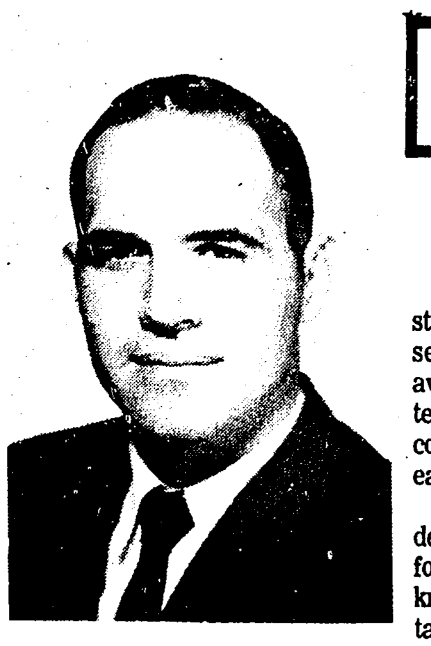
Arizona will play an 11th football game in 1971. The Wildcats have added San Diego State for a Nov. 20 game to be played in San Diego's new 54,000-seat stadium.



ALLEN TRIPLETT

Former NJC Student Heads TJCTA

Allen Triplett, a former Navarro College student, has been elected president of the Texas Junior College Teachers Association. His election came last week during the Association's 24th annual convention in Dallas.

Currently the Team Chairman of the Division of Basic Studies at Tarrant County Junior College (South Campus) in Fort Worth, Triplett graduated from Navarro in 1954 with an Associate Degree.

While at Navarro he was a bus driver for the College, 1952-54, and was selected as the Outstanding Agriculture Student, 1954.

Following his education at Navarro he attended Sam Houston State University and completed the B. S. degree in 1956 with a major in agriculture and a minor in biology. In 1962 he received the M. Ed degree from Sam Houston with a major in education and a minor in agriculture.

A doctoral student at Baylor University at the present time, Triplett has had other graduate training at The University of Texas-Austin, Montana State University, North Texas State University, University of Washington, and Illinois State.

Before assuming his post at Tarrant County Junior College, he had teaching careers in the public schools of Hillsboro, Kerrville and Dumas and served as Chairman, Department of Life Sciences at Hill Junior College.

Triplett has professional affilations in Phi Delta Kappa, Texas Academy of Science, National Association of Biology Teachers, Texas Junior College Teachers Association of College Teachers, Texas Farm Bureau, American Cancer Society, and Masonic Lodge.

Area Student Gets Hamilton Award at UT

AUSTIN, (Spl.)—William E. Carroll, Jr., a civil engineering graduate of The University of Texas, was named Friday (Feb. 26) as recipient of the Hamilton Watch Award for being the top engineering graduate in the fall class of 1970.

He was presented an engraved electric Hamilton watch and certificate by Dean Earnest F. Gloyna during College of Engineering convocation ceremonies in Burdine Auditorium.

For 14 years the Hamilton Watch Company of Lancaster, Pa., has made the award to the engineering graduate who most successfully combines proficiency in his field of study and also in the social sciences and humanities.

Carroll, of Blooming Grove, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Carroll.

During his period of study at UT Austin, he was named an Engineering Fellow in the Fall of 1970 and is on the College of Engineering Honor Roll.

One graduate each semester is named as a recipient of the Hamilton Award.

NCAC Offers Typing Class

Guy Rushin, Manpower Coordinator for Navarro County Action Committee announces the starting of a new beginners typing class Tuesday March 2, 1971 at 12:30 p.m. The class will be conducted each Tuesday and Wednesday from 12:30 to 2:30 by Mrs. Ralph Tatum. The class is coordinated with Corsicana Independent School District and Navarro County Action Committee.

There must be 12 students present before the class can start and there will be a tuition of $12.00 plus $3.69 for the book. For further information call Mrs. Blair or Mr. Rushin at 2-2401. Students may enroll at the class.

QUICKY KNITS: Knits are the star attraction of the Spring season this year. They are available in a wide variety of textures, patterns, weights and colors; they are easy to wear, easy care, and easy to sew.

The weight of the knit will determine the type of garment for which it is suitable. Double knits make great suits, coats and tailored dresses while single knits are perfect for softer, less tailored designs.

Select a simple pattern for a loose knit or bold print and generally avoid bias cut or circular skirts. When cutting knits, work on a long flat surface to avoid stretching fabric and do not use original fold in fabric. Use sharp pins and shears to avoid snags. For jersey, pin pattern on wrong side to avoid curling.

To stitch, choose 100 per cent polyester thread, a short stitch length (12-15), a loose balanced tension, adjust pressure foot to light, and guide fabric gently without pulling.

To avoid stretch use a bias tape in the waistline and shoulder seams. Stay stitch all curved areas such as neckline and sleeve areas. Press in lengthwise direction to avoid stretching. Place paper strips under seam allowances to avoid impression on right side.

Interface neckline, buttonholes, cuffs, waistbands and belts to prevent stretching. Interface collars, lapels and hemlines to give shaping with featherweight interfacings especially designed for knits.

If linings are necessary, construct separately and attach at neckline and waistline. Allow knit garments to hang at least twenty-four hours before the final hemming. Use seam binging or hem facing that is recommended for knits because it gives with the fabric.

LABELS IMPORTANT: Life-size characters, rocking boats, barnyard scenes, flying pink elephants. They sell some food products but wise shoppers look for something else—food labels. They clue shoppers in on what to find inside, and labels help them get their money's worth.

Buy products that meet your needs; examine food packages carefully for contents, net weight and degree of fill. Knowing the cost of food and comparing cost per unit leads to rational choices.

DRESS REVUE: The Navarro County 4-H Dress Revue will be Saturday, March 13, 1971, at the Corsicana Public Library. This year's theme is "Midi, Mini, and Maxi Flashing in '71" which gives an idea of the wide variety of ensembles expected for this year!

The Dress Revue is an annual affair which is one of the youth's activities of the 4-H Clubs in connection with the youth programs of the Texas A&M Extension Service. Girls from 4-H Clubs throughout Navarro County will be participating by making a garment and modeling it at the Dress Revue. Encouragement is given to the members to participate in as many of the activities as they desire. The 4-H program strives to be educational as well as enjoyable and through such activities as this, the Navarro County youths can show to the public what they have learned as a 4-H'er.

Modern laws help; the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act requires that food be wholesome and suitable for consumer use. All information on food labels must be accurate, easy to find, easy to understand and not misleading.

Labels must tell the name of the product, name and address of manufacturer, packer or shipper; accurate statement of quantity by weight, measure or numerical count; and a list of ingredients when two or more foods go into a product that is not standarized.

A CREAMY filling is laced with lush strawberries for a pie that makes a memorable finish for a simple family meal.

Berry Good Treats for Very Special Occasions

WHAT a welcome sight in our markets — those big, bright California strawberries! And there are so many delectable ways to serve them. Such delights as a refreshing fruit salad or a tall drink bring a touch of summer to late-winter appetites.

Then there is that welcome sight after a simple family meal — an elegant strawberry pie. This version has a crumb topping for added effect:

STRAWBERRY CRUMB PIE

6 cups halved fresh California strawberries (about 3 pints)
¾ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup quick cooking tapioca
1⅓ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup solid all-vegetable shortening
2 to 3 tablespoons water
¼ cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Sweetened whipped cream

Mix berries with sugar and tapioca; let stand while making pastry.

Combine flour and salt in a bowl; cut in shortening until uniform but coarse. Reserve about ½ cup mixture and set aside.

Sprinkle water over remaining mixture in bowl; toss with fork and press into a ball. On lightly floured surface, roll out pastry 1½ inches larger than inverted 9-inch pie plate.

Fit into plate and trim ½ inch beyond edge of pie plate. Fold under to make double thickness around edge and flute, forming a high-standing edge. Fill with strawberry mixture. Cut an 8-inch round of aluminum foil and lay over filling. Bake for 35 minutes at 400°F.

Blend reserved flour mixture, brown sugar and cinnamon. Remove aluminum foil from pie and sprinkle flour mixture over pie. Continue baking 30 to 40 minutes or until crust and crumb topping are browned. (If pie bubbles over during baking, place a sheet of aluminum foil beneath it.) Cool.

Serve with whipped cream for a fancy family treat.

For a refreshing and healthful luncheon, serve a fruit salad. Toasted cheese bread would make a pleasing accompaniment to this fruit medley.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT SALAD

1 pint fresh California strawberries
2 cups seedless green grapes
2 cups diced pineapple
1 medium banana, sliced
1 medium avocado, peeled and diced
1 medium orange, peeled and sectioned
1 medium apple, cored and diced
¾ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup orange juice
Crisp lettuce

Toss together all fruit. Blend mayonnaise with orange juice. Add dressing to fruit and toss lightly. Serve on lettuce. Serves 6.

STRAWBERRY CLOUD

3 pints fresh California strawberries
1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
1 quart strawberry soda

Force berries through food mill or use electric blender. Strain through fine sieve to remove seeds; then blend strawberry puree and ice cream until smooth. Stir in strawberry soda. This serves 6 with a foretaste of summer.

EVEN BUTTER and jelly taste better spread on home-baked bread, if it's a unique Apple Bread like this one.

Try Home-Baked Bread to Boost Routine Meals

SOMETHING that gives a lift to an otherwise routine meal and, by the same token, adds an extra touch of distinction to a company luncheon or dinner is home-baked bread or rolls.

On hand, are three superb recipes for such, all owing that elusive, so desirable "something special" to canned apple juice or apple sauce.

Here's:

APPLE BREAD

2 cups canned apple sauce
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
1 package dry yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
6 to 6½ cups sifted all-purpose flour

Heat apple sauce slightly. Add butter, salt and sugar. Stir to melt butter and dissolve sugar.

Soften yeast in water; add to apple sauce mixture. Add half the flour and mix well. Continue adding flour until a soft dough is formed. Knead on a floured board 8 to 10 minutes.

Grease dough lightly and place in a warmed and greased bowl. Cover and let rise in a warm place free from drafts, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down in bowl and let stand, covered, 30 minutes. Turn out onto floured board. Cut into 2 parts. Let stand 10 minutes.

Shape into oblong loaves and place on greased baking sheets. Cut 3 or 4 slashes in top of loaf. Cover and let stand in warm place until double in bulk or about 1 hour.

Bake in 400°F. oven 30 to 35 minutes or until nicely browned. Brush with butter. Cool loaves on rack.

The next recipe is good, too, and less involved:

DELECTABLE APPLE SAUCE BREAD

⅔ cup butter or margarine
2½ cups sugar
4 eggs
1 cup canned apple sauce
1 can (8 ounces) cranberry sauce
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
3¼ cups all-purpose flour, sifted
2 teaspoons baking soda
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
⅔ cup apple juice
1 cup chopped walnuts

Cream together butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition. Stir in next 3 ingredients.

Sift together dry ingredients. Add alternately with apple juice to apple sauce mixture. Stir in walnuts.

Turn batter into 2 greased and floured 9x13x2-inch loaf pans. Bake 30 minutes at 375°F. Serve with whipped butter for spreading. Recipe also works in three 8x8x2-inch pans at 375°F. baked for 30 minutes.

APPLE SAUCE BREAKFAST PECAN ROLLS

1 package roll mix
2 tablespoons sugar
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1¾ cups canned apple sauce
⅓ cup brown sugar
½ cup chopped pecans
Cinnamon

Prepare roll mix according to package directions, adding 2 tablespoons sugar. Cover and let rise until double in bulk.

Add 2 tablespoons butter to apple sauce. Cook 10 to 15 minutes to thicken, stirring occasionally; cool.

Melt remaining 4 tablespoons butter in 9x9x2-inch pan; add brown sugar and heat until melted.

Roll dough to 17x9x½-inch rectangle; spread with cooled apple sauce, sprinkle with pecans and cinnamon; roll up jelly-roll fashion. Slice in 1-inch slices. Arrange cut side up on sugar mixture. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Bake 30 minutes at 400°F. Serve warm.

Meat Dishes Offer Variety, Low Calories

Styles come and go but figure control knows no special season! An attractive shape can be maintained throughout the year by eating well-balanced, nutritious meals that supply only as many calories as needed for activity.

Meals can be varied and interesting though low in calories, according to Reba Staggs, home economics authority for the National Live Stock and Meat Board. She suggests the following appetizing recipes for calorie counters.

Broiled Smoked Ham Slices

2 center-cut smoked ham slices, cut 1 inch thick

Place ham slices on grill as far as possible from ash-covered coals. Broil on first side 8 to 10 minutes. Turn and broil on second side 8 to 10 minutes or until done. 6 to 8 servings.

Stroganoff Steak — Modern Style

2½ to 3 pounds beef round steak, cut ¾ inch thick
2 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
¼ cup water
3 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
¼ cup chopped onions
½ cup nonfat dry milk (not reconstituted)
¾ cup water
⅛ teaspoon dill weed
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
Flour for gravy, if desired

Cut round steak into serving-sized pieces. Combine flour, 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Pound seasoned flour into steak. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add ¼ cup water. Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 to 1½ hours or until tender. Remove meat to hot platter. Pour off cooking liquid, reserving 3 tablespoons in pan. Add mushrooms and onion and brown lightly. Combine nonfat dry milk, water, dill weed, garlic and remaining salt and pepper. Add to mushrooms and heat thoroughly. Thicken with flour for gravy, if desired. 6 to 8 servings.

Beef Top Hats

2 pounds ground beef
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup catsup
4 English muffins
8 onion slices, cut ¼ inch thick
¼ teaspoon paprika

Combine ground beef, salt, pepper and catsup. Shape into 8 patties approximately 4½ inches in diameter. Place on rack in broiler pan. Broil 3 to 5 inches from heat about 8 minutes or until brown. Split English muffins. Place patties, cooked side down, on English muffins and broil to desired doneness. Top each patty with an onion slice, if desired, and sprinkle with paprika. 6 to 8 servings.

Tricks to Treat

Halloween is a time to use imagination as an ingredient to make extra fun for the kids. Facial decoration may be applied on sausage patties for breakfast using cheese, on open face ham sandwiches at lunchtime with mustard and on salisbury steaks at dinner with onion or olives and catsup.

Low-Cal Lunch

Low calorie lunches are always in good taste but don't always taste good. For a calorie scant salad that does, toss weiner circles with lettuce greens, grated carrot and chopped celery. Enjoy at home or from a plastic carton at the office.

Peekaboos Make Tasty Family Meal

Tasty mounds of ground beef topped with pastry made tender with lard is one dish sure to please palates of the family or a whole gang. This recipe idea was developed by the National Live Stock and Meat Board under the direction of home economist Reba Staggs for both the school lunch program and home use.

Beef Peekaboos for Family

1½ pounds ground beef
½ cup condensed cream of celery soup
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup water
¾ cup soft bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon sage
2 cups sifted flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
⅓ to ½ cup milk

Combine ground beef, soup, onion, water, bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper and sage. Mix well. Shape into 12 meat mounds using about ⅓ cup mixture for each. Place in an ungreased baking pan. Sift together flour, baking powder and ¾ teaspoon salt. Cut in lard until the mixture has a fine even crumb. Add enough milk to flour mixture to make a soft dough. Turn onto lightly floured surface and knead gently for ½ minute. Roll dough into 12 x 16-inch rectangle. Cut dough into twelve 4 x 4-inch squares. Make 2 cuts, 1½ inches long, through center of each square to form an "x". Place a square over each mound of meat. Bake in a hot oven (400°F.) 30 minutes. Thicken drippings and liquid for gravy, if desired. 6 servings.

Beef Peekaboos for Crowd

9 pounds ground beef
2½ cups water
½ cup instant minced onion
3 cups (25 ounces) condensed cream of celery soup
1½ quarts (10 ounces) soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1½ tablespoons sage
1½ quarts sifted flour
3 tablespoons baking powder
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup lard
1¾ to 2 cups milk

Add water to onion and let stand 10 minutes. Add celery soup, bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons salt, pepper and sage, mixing well, Mix in ground beef. Shape mixture into 48 mounds and place in ungreased 25¾ x 17¾-inch baking pan or several smaller pans. Make biscuit dough by sifting together flour, baking powder and 1 tablespoon salt. Cut in lard, blending until the mixture has a fine even crumb. Add milk to make a soft dough, mixing only until just blended. Turn on floured board or cloth to knead lightly. Roll half of dough into a rectangle (24 x 16 inches) and cut into 24 squares (4 x 4 inches). Repeat with remaining dough. Make 2 cuts, 1½ inches long, through center of each square to form an "x".

Fairfield First Aid Class Set

FAIRFIELD (Spl.)—A ten-hour First Aid Class, sponsored by the Heart of Texas Council of Governments, Waco Red Cross, and the Freestone County Sheriff's Department, will be held at the Fairfield High School Cafeteria on March 9-11 from 7 to 10 p.m.

The First Aid Course is being taught primarily for the benefit of local and state police officers and members of the Freestone County Emergency Corps. Those who complete the ten-hour course will receive a First Aid Card, and police officers will receive ten hours credits on training certification.

Instructor for the course will be Chuck Pinto, Director of Safety Programs, Waco Chapter, American Red Cross.

Arrangements for the course were made through J. J. Harnar, Law Enforcement Coordinator of Heart of Texas Governments, by J. R. Sessions, Jr., Sheriff, and H. D. Whitaker, Director of Programs, Fairfield Schools.

Facilities at the school cafeteria are being provided for the class as part of the services of the Fairfield School District to Adult Education and Community services.

Golden Circle Business News

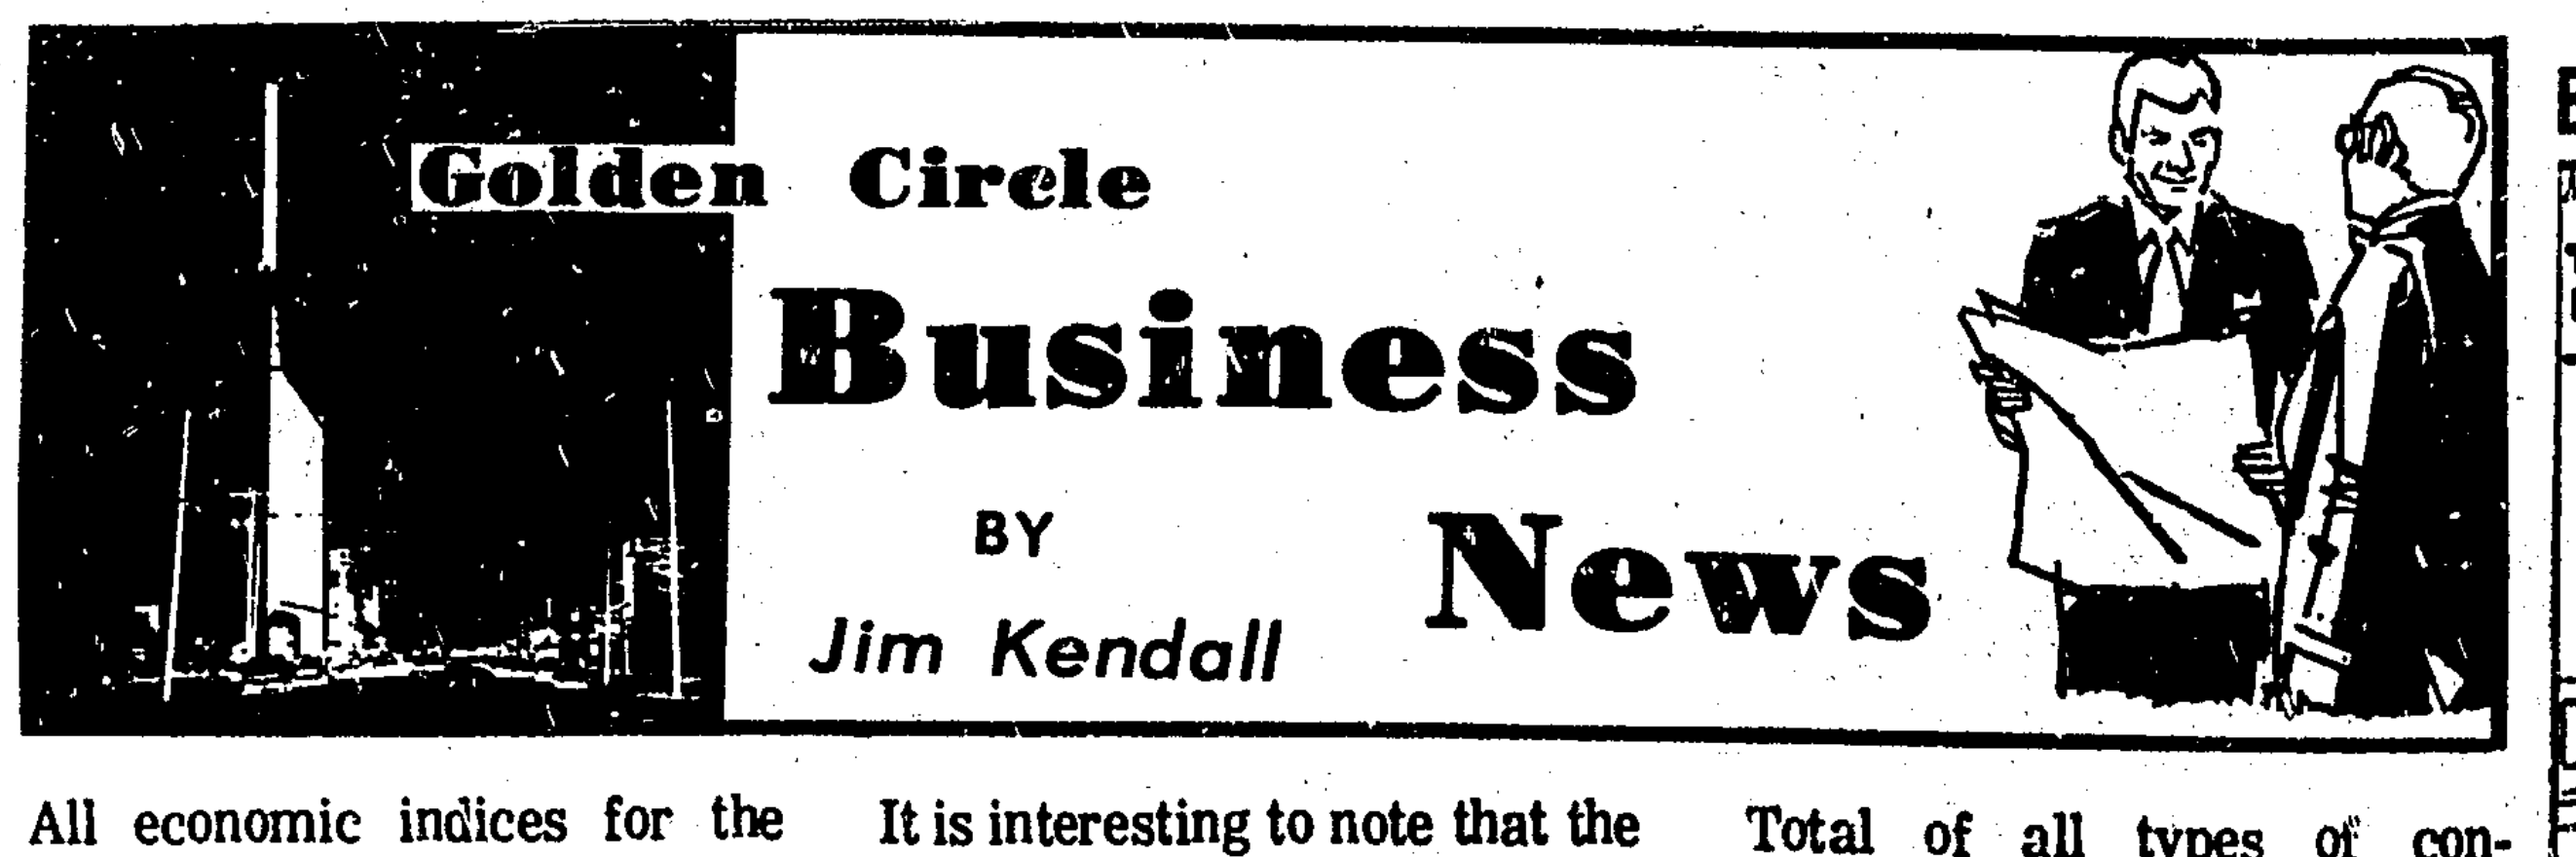
BY Jim Kendall



All economic indices for the Corsicana area were on the upswing during the past week.

The Texas Employment Commission reported 26 new claims filed during the week, bringing to 309 the number of active applicants on hand.

Some 17 job openings were received by local firms, and employment picked up with hiring at a local new shopping center

It is interesting to note that the Corsicana construction picture is as good, if not better, than some cities of much larger size.

Corsicana's construction picture was roughly $300,000 in new permits through January 31. This was about equal to Abilene's $318,807, greater than Midland's $235,290, and about the same as San Angelo's $324,814.

As was the case throughout the state, the value and number of new single-family dwellings authorized during January dropped last month, but not at an alarming rate.

New housing permits locally have amounted to approximately four to five a week, excluding one slack period following the Christmas holiday season.

There is little reason to doubt, say local contractors, that more than 75 new single-family dwellings will be built in Corsicana during the remainder of the year.

Total construction value of permits issued in the state's largest cities during January went like this:

Austin, $14,694,700, including 284 dwelling units; Dallas, $22,257,807, including 1,676 dwelling units; Fort Worth, $4,328,655, including 136 dwelling units; San Antonio, $5,693,227, including 400 dwelling units; and Houston, $36,551,398, including 1,276 new dwelling units.

Total of all types of construction authorized in Texas between December, 1970, and January, 1971, declined 31 per cent, the marked decrease most apparent among residential units authorized.

New Permits Hit $59,983

Corsicana added $59,983 in new construction this past week in six building permits issued at city hall. This pushed the construction estimate for the year to $407,460.

Permits included: Carey Lumber Co., construct brick veneer residence at 508 Oakridge Dr., at a cost of $12,975; W. E. Harrison, 2801 Lafayette Dr., construct brick veneer residence at $15,968; Garland Maxwell, construct brick veneer residence at 2916 Lafayette Dr., $12,800; Hand Furniture Co., 124 W. 6th Ave., remodel building, $15,000; Richard C. Parker, 1505 Sycamore Ave., add to residence, $1,150; K. K. French, 1503 Cherry Ave., add to residence, $2,000.

State Construction Remains Consistent

AUSTIN—Declining, as anticipated, from the levels of last December, the indexes of construction authorized in Texas for January, 1971, nevertheless did maintain levels considerably above those recorded a year ago, reports the Bureau of Business Research at The University of Texas at Austin.

The seasonally adjusted indexes of last December, based on reported building-permit issues in incorporated places, attained truly phenomenal levels. Those for total and residential authorizations were the highest in the 289-month history of the index.

Social Security

A survey of 5 million older couples who collect social security retirement benefits showed that one-third of them receive payments of $160 a month or more.

A recent study of married couples with one or both members 65 or over who collect social security benefits indicated that about 20 per cent of the older couples collect social security benefits in the second-highest bracket—$140 to $160 a month. About 15 per cent of the couples collect benefits in the $115-$140 bracket, about 14 per cent in the $90-$115 bracket, and about 18 per cent in the under-$90 bracket.

Half in the bottom bracket receive the minimum retirement benefit of $64, or reduced amount if they elected to collect benefits before 65.

Retirement benefits are based on a worker's average earnings during his working years. They are funded by contributions to social security from workers and their employers.

The rate of social security contributions, as well as the maximum amount of annual earnings subject to contributions, has been increased through the years to keep benefits in line with earnings.

Men and women may begin collecting full monthly retirement benefits based on their own earnings record at 65—or an actuarially reduced benefit at 62.

A retired man's wife receives an amount equal to half of his benefit when she's 65—or earlier if she has dependent children. She may also receive reduced benefits between 62 and 65 even if she has no dependent children.

A wife may collect social security on her own record if such benefits are higher than her benefit as a wife.

Dr Pepper Shows Net Increase

DALLAS—Dr. Pepper Co. said its net earnings increased more than 21 per cent last year—$5,629,021 and 61 cents per share, compared with $4,642,238, and 50 cents per share, in 1969. Net sales, also reaching a new high, were better than 16 per cent ahead at $57,449,749, compared with $49,514,538 in 1969.

Retail Prices Climb Expected

COLLEGE STATION — Retail food prices are expected to increase again in 1971, but the rise won't be as great as in the past two years, according to Gwendolyne Clyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist.

To stretch your food budget, combine good judgment and market knowledge in selecting foods, she said.

New Zoning Plan Okayed

Master Plan Referred To City for Reviewing

Corsicana City Commission had one of its longest and busiest sessions in months Tuesday as it concerned itself with various aspects of the master plan, calling the April 6 city election and submitting a referendum proposition, a heated rehashing of an amendment to the electrical code before it was tabled again, and reacting to complaints and actions of other agencies.

Chairman Campbell Gillespie submitted the City Planning and Zoning Commission's recommendations that the city adopt the newly-drafted comprehensive zoning ordinance and zoning district map, and further that the Commission adopt an amendment to the Sub-Division ordinance. Both were unanimously approved on first reading with second and final reading scheduled March 16.

In behalf of the Planning and Zoning Commission, Chairman Gillespie also recommended the City Commission receive voluminous summary reports dealing with various aspects of updating Corsicana's master plan which had been carried out by Marvin Springer and Forrest and Cotton for study in depth and adoption at such time in the future as city officials have familiarized themselves with their scope and contents.

Springer called attention that the 161-page Comprehensive Plan Report contained summaries of individual reports his work pertained most to such as population, economic factors, land use, thoroughfares, community facilities, the central area, housing and neighborhoods, while Ed Noakes would review highlights of three summary reports prepared by Forrest and Cotton, consulting engineers. The engineering consultants submitted three book summaries dealing individually with the water supply, treatment and distribution system, sanitary sewerage system and treatment facilities and storm drainage system.

Springer emphasized that the data and proposals presented in the various elements of the comprehensive plan are intended as a guide to the future development of Corsicana. Completion of the comprehensive plan, he stressed, should be considered the beginning, or first step, in a continuing planning process. This report should be a base from which to project Corsicana's future development. The consultant observed that with regular revision and implementation, the desires and aspirations of the citizens of Corsicana for the physical development of the community could be realized.

"Our studies led to the conclusions our planning standards should be based on a population of 30,000 over the next 15 to 20 years."

Springer called attention to a "picture plate" in the report which projects a proposed pedestrian mall conversion of the central section of Beaton Street and a proposed Civic Center Plan envisioning a new municipal building between the library and courthouse, fire station, police and courts facility on one block (between W. 5th and W. 4th Ave.) and a future Auditorium in the block between W. 4th and W. 3rd Ave. He expressed belief these would "strengthen and re-enforce the central business district. It will improve your industrial opportunities because these are things people look at," he said in choosing new towns for plant locations.

Springer said Corsicana is unique in the most of its industry is located on one side of town and most of the residential on the other, but it presents problems in thoroughfare planning to minimize congestions and various proposals are made in the report to feed local traffic in and out of the central area while routing heavy truck traffic around town that now must go through.

Springer termed revisions to the Sub-Division ordinance "as refinements to what you already have." He opined Corsicana is in "fairly good position" on park lands but needs to work in closer relation with the school system in coordinating playgrounds and neighborhood parks. "One thing that may be controversial is the fire stations—we think you can do with one less," he said, turning to another aspect of planning, Springer said as consultants they recommended that Corsicana get into a program of code enforcement on housing standards and place itself in position to be eligible for federal funds from HUD to finance upgrading public facilities.

"All of the goals are coordinated in Plate 25 at the back of this report you have before you," Springer said before turning the report session over to Noakes to comment on studies dealing with the water, sewer, and storm drainage. Noakes advised the Commission between the present and 1990 recommendations from Forrest and Cotton projects water system improvements in the neighborhood of $2.6 million; sewer improvements in the range of $1.5 million and drainage improvements approximately $1.1 million.

Mayor W. P. Murchison commended the Planning and Zoning Commission and the planning consultants for their work over the past two years to bring Corsicana to this point. He urged City Commissioners to undertake to read the voluminous reports to familiarize themselves with the full contents so all could become prepared to vote on adoption hopefully in the near future.

Springer advised the Commission the consultants he will submit in the near future a capitol improvements study which will tie together the projects included in the reports previously submitted giving a dollar picture of the integral parts of the comprehensive plan. City officials would then decide the priorities.

Referendum Set

At the urging of Commissioner Bob Scott initially, later supported by other Commissioners, and after much discussion between the Commission and City Attorney Don Pevehouse as to whether it could be done or not, the Commission vote to submit a referendum on the April 6 ballot giving the citizens opportunity to vote on whether they favor "ward by ward representation" with a commissioner elected from the nine voting precincts. Scott strongly argued that this was the only recommendation coming from the Charter Study Committee appointed by the city several months ago.

It was finally resolved that this would just "sample public opinion" and if response should favor having nine commissioners plus a mayor, then it entailed an election in the future to amend the city charter to permit this change.

Mayor Murchison said he already was on record from the past as being opposed to electing commissioners that weren't all voted on by all of the people, if it were being proposed to have commissioners elected just by wards. Scott finally got it over to all present he wasn't advocating the change as such, merely that they put it on the ballot and get the public's reaction.

The referendum issued was approved as a verbal resolution after adoption of a written resolution read by City Attorney Pevehouse which calls the election for April 6 for the purpose of naming a mayor, two commissioners, city tax assessor-collector and city attorney.

Polling places and election judges and alternates as proposed by Mayor Murchison were approved as follows: Precinct 1—Crockett School, Charles A. Williams, presiding judge; Pearlie Hall, alternate; Precinct 1A—Collin Middle School, Howard Allen and John B. Davis, judge and alternate; 1B—School Administration Building—T. F. Donald and Mrs. T. F. Donald, judge and alternate; Precinct 2—East Side Community Center—Rev. Paul Curry and Mrs. Paul Curry, judge and alternate; Precinct 2A—YMCA—G.Roland Andrus and Mrs. G. Roland Andrus, judge and alternate; Precinct 3—Fire Station No. 2 (W. 13th Ave.)—Mrs. Loyd Metcalf and Mrs. Walter Parker, judge and alternate; Precinct 3A—United Christian Fellowship, NJC—Preston S. Garner and Mrs. Roy Peeples, judge and alternate; Precinct 4—Courthouse—Robert M. Cooksey and Charles W. Croft, judge and alternate; Precinct 4A—Robert E. Lee School—Mrs. W. H. Balcolm Jr. and Mrs. Lewis Gee, judge and alternate.

Voters should take note of the change of some polling place locations since the last municipal elections.

City Attorney Pevehouse informed the Commission the nearest relative of Robert V. Yarber who had filed as a candidate for mayor had requested the city remove Yarber's name from the ballot. Pevehouse said the family had advised Yarber was in a VA Hospital. "I think it proper to inform the City Commission of this request from the family and I have instructed City Secretary Nelda Neal not to include his name on the ballot," said Pevehouse.

Commissioner H. R. Stroube asked "is that one of the ways it can be done?" and Pevehouse replied "it is the only way it can be done since it was requested by his family."

Commissioner Sue Youngblood said she wanted, at that point, to correct a statement that come out in the newspaper that a candidate for city office had to live here two years before eligible to run. City Attorney Pevehouse said the charter makes this stipulation and further that a candidate be a qualified voter which means one year residence in Texas and a resident of the city six months before they can vote. "I stand corrected," said Mrs. Youngblood, then asking "why did the city let Mr. Crowley run (last year) when he had just barely lived here six months?" There was no answer.

Electrical Code

The controversial amendment to the electrical code was raised anew by Walter Erwin, developer and former city official, advocating a change to permit the use of non-metallic sheated electrical cable in multi-family dwellings.

Commissioner Youngblood said she was aware when this matter came up a few months back that both City Manager Bob Brockman and Building Inspector Delma Ware had written other cities to find out whether they permitted this material, but she had, on her own, written 11 cities of her own choosing with eight replying they had changed their electrical codes to permit its use, two other cities were in processing of changing to allow it, and no reply had been received from one city.

Electrical Inspector John Remonte reiterated his "main reason for opposing Romax (a trade name for non-metallic sheathed cable) is that it is a lower grade of wire and I think the excuse for changing the code is too small." An electrician, Carl Morris, heatedly opposed the change, contending that it posed a fire hazard threat to apartment complexes housing 400 to 500 people, and characterized permitting it in such structures as "legalizing murder" by potential fire deaths.

Back in December, Erwin had told the Commission a developer from out of town would consider Corsicana for a major apartment complex if the city would amend it electrical code removing a restriction that wiring for dwellings of more than two-family size be placed in metal conduit.

Commissioner Ken Stone contended that even the National Electric Code, which Corsicana adopted, allows this materials use provided construction provides it be within a "fire rated wall," something he said had not been played up. He further pointed out that the amendment still requires the service lines be encased in conduit, only branch circuits lines would no longer be required to be in conduit with enforcement of the fire rated walls provisions of the building code.

"If a job doesn't meet our codes it could still be turned down by the electrical or building inspector," Commissioner Stone contended.

Mrs. Youngblood said the only reason she had changed her view on the controversy since it first came up was that she had contacted some of those opposing it, electricians included, and they aren't opposing it now. She asked if the electricians were so opposed why weren't more of them at this meeting as it had been widely publicized the matter was coming up again.

Commissioner Stroube expressed belief it would do little good to comment as he felt a decision had been predetermined by a majority of the Commissioners. Stroube said he felt they should take the advice of professional people they had employed such as Inspector Remonte who was against it. "I don't want it on my conscience if a bunch of people burn up," he said in dwellings in which the material is permitted.

Mrs. Youngblood said she wasn't going to vote to settle an argument on an issue between builders and electricians, but she could and would see to it the meeting room was filled with people if it were delayed to the next meeting. She moved it be tabled, her motion drew no second, and she withdrew it, then Commissioner Stone moved the amendment be approved as presented, and his motion received no second, and was withdrawn, whereas Mrs. Youngblood offered another motion to table, Stone seconded, and on a vote, they were joined by Mayor Murchison carrying the motion 3-2 to table.

Rejects Offer

Commissioner Stroube offered a motion that the city reject an offer from County Commissioners Court of $400 annually toward costs of making fire runs outside the city, and instead the city formally request $6,000 for this service and offer the county free use and access to the city's dump grounds.

Stroube said it was his understanding the city was negotiating a rate on this service until he read in Monday's Daily Sun where the county had allocated Corsicana $400. "It takes two to negotiate," he contended in putting forth his proposal which met unanimous approval. He spelled out that he was not stipulating that Corsicana would not make fire runs outside the city, as it will continue, just that they reject the $400 sum and name their own figure.

City Litter

The news columns of the Daily Sun prefaced a complaint from Ed Wendorph, 1715 Elmwood Ave., concerning refuse blowing free along E. Hwy 31 from the city dumps. Wendorph told the Commission he owned 70 acres of land and complained that having it littered with trash blowing from the dump grounds made it difficult to farm or sell for industrial purposes.

City Manager Brockman answered this complaint by telling Wendorph Corsicana is in process now of building a chicken wire fence along city dump grounds property to keep papers from blowing away and littering the roadside and other privately-owned property. He said the city also intends to "pick up" the strewn refuse and he volunteered to take Wendorph and any other citizen on an inspection tour to see for themselves steps the city is taking by erecting the fence.

Brockman stated a new state law prohibits cities from "open dump burning" of refuse when Wendorph said he had witnessed a burning method in a trench operation in San Antonio and recommended this as a solution to prevent blowing papers from scattering over the countryside. The city manager said he was familiar with San Antonio and the Alamo city used an expensive incinerator type operation Corsicana couldn't afford.

D. W. Vanderslice, North Beaton St., was informed by city manager Corsicana doesn't have $3,000 to spend to extend a sewer line to serve his property when he appeared to inquire about sewer service.

The Commission chamber was packed throughout most of the lengthy meeting with a sizeable delegation on hand from the Chamber of Commerce to hear reports concerning the comprehensive plan.

Merger Approved

At a stockholders meeting of the First National Bank of Corsicana, H.R. Stroube, board chairman, and W.D. Wyatt, president, announced that shareholders have approved the forming of a one-bank holding company.

Some 94½ shareholder votes were present either in person or by proxy, and included in excess of 400 shareholders.

In other business, election of directors for the coming year included:

H.R. Stroube, C.L. Brown, Jr., Joe E. Butler, J.M. Dyer, J.B. Fortson Jr., O.H. Moore, R.F. Rutherford, B.L. Sanders, Jr., Louis Shwarts, J.F. Smith, F.C. Stewart, W.C. Stroube, Jr., J.N. Wheelock, R.L. Wheelock, Jr., and W.D. Wyatt.

Wyatt said the consolidation will mean to the Golden Circle of Central Texas more flexibility in bank-related businesses.

There are no immediate plans for utilization of additional investment, but Wyatt said this will give the stockholders a direct ownership of the CORNAVCO Corp., which will be merged with the one-bank holding company.

At present, CORNAVCO has a minority ownership in the Citizens National Bank of Malakoff, First National Bank of Streetman.

Wyatt said the expansion will help in an increase in the corporation's lending capacity, trust accounts and other bank-related endeavors.

"This move should strengthen the financial aspects of the entire Golden Circle of Central Texas," he said.

No changes in bank management or other personnel are planned at the present.

The move makes the First National Bank of Corsicana one of the largest banking institutions between Dallas and Houston.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (SJR 15)

Special Election May 18, 1971

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III, Section 24, of the Texas Constitution, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 24. (1) The State Ethics Commission is created as an agency of the State. The commission consists of nine members. Three members shall be appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas with the advice and consent of the Associate Justices serving on the Court, three members shall be appointed by the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas with the advice and consent of the other Judges serving on the Court, and three members shall be appointed by the Chairman of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission with the advice and consent of the other members of the commission, of each group of three appointees no more than two shall be attorneys engaged in the active practice of law. In addition thereto there shall be two ex officio members, one from the House of Representatives and one from the Senate to be elected on the first day of each Regular Session of the Legislature by a majority of the membership of each House for a term ending on the first day of the next Regular Session.

"(2) With the exception of the initial appointees, each member shall hold office for a term of six (6) years and until his successor is appointed and has qualified. In making the initial appointments, each appointing officer shall designate one (1) appointee to serve a term of two (2) years, one (1) appointee to serve a term of four (4) years, and one (1) appointee to serve a term of six (6) years. Interim vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as vacancies due to expiration of a full term, but only for the unexpired portion of the term in question. The membership shall designate one of its members to serve as chairman for a period of two (2) years.

"(3) The members of the commission shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

"(4) The commission shall recommend the compensation, per diem, and mileage allowance of members of the Legislature, and may recommend the salary of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Lieutenant Governor at an amount higher than that of other members notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary of Article IV, Section 17, of the Texas Constitution.

"(5) The commission shall promulgate rules of ethics to govern the conduct of all legislators, legislative officers and all officeholders, appointive or elective, of any office, department, district agency, commission, board or any governmental unit or branch established by or under the authority of the constitution and laws of the State of Texas and all persons who shall use any privilege of the floor in either House of the Legislature. The Texas State Ethics Commission shall further promulgate rules providing that each member of the Legislature and each of the hereinabove named officeholders upon election and any appointee to any of these offices shall file with the State Ethics Commission a statement under oath setting out a complete financial statement in detail within 10 days after being elected or receiving an appointment. This information shall be privileged information to the State Ethics Commission to be used only by them to determine if there exists a conflict of interests or if there is or has been a violation of any of the rules of ethics promulgated by the Texas State Ethics Commission or any laws of the State of Texas. The Legislature shall enact statutes dealing with unauthorized disclosure or misuse of said privileged information.

"(6) The commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet in Austin at least once each year to review existing rules of ethics, Legislative compensation rates, mileage allowances and per diem rates, and to make any changes deemed necessary.

"(7) All rules of ethics, compensation rates, mileage allowances or per diem rates currently in force, as well as all changes and recommendations by the State Ethics Commission shall be promulgated before the convening of any session of the Legislature by filing a certified copy of the proclamation with the Secretary of State.

(a) Each rule of ethics or change thereof made by the commission shall take effect on the 15th day of the legislative session following the proclamation unless disapproved before that day by resolution of either House of the Legislature.

(b) All rates of compensation, mileage allowances or per diem rates and all changes and recommendations made by the commission thereof shall not take effect until approved section by section by resolution of both Houses of the Legislature.

"All votes on these resolutions or parts thereof shall show the individual votes in the respective journals of both Houses.

"(8) The commission shall investigate any alleged violation of any rule of ethics promulgated by it and report its findings to the appropriate State agency, official, legislative body, grand jury or district attorney.

"(9) Until otherwise provided by the commission, each member of the Legislature shall receive from the public treasury an annual salary of Four Thousand, Eight Hundred Dollars ($4,800) per year and per diem not exceeding Twelve Dollars ($12) per day for the first 120 days only of each Regular Session and for 30 days of each Special Session of the Legislature. No Regular Session shall be of longer duration than 140 days. In addition to the per diem, the members of each House shall be entitled to mileage in going to and returning from the seat of government, which mileage shall not exceed Two Dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for every twenty-five (25) miles, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel, from a table of distances prepared by the Comptroller to each county seat now or hereafter established; no member to be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after adjournment of the Regular or Called session.

"(10) The commission is further authorized to recommend to each Legislature changes which will update, improve, and effect economy in the legislative process."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the 18th day of May, 1971, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to create a State Ethics Commission empowered to set rules of ethics for members of the Legislature, State officers and legislative officers, to investigate violations thereof, and to recommend compensation for members of the Legislature and the Lieutenant Governor and recommend improvements and economy in the legislative process."

Break-In Reported By Judge's Office

The dead-like silence of Navarro County Courthouse on a Sunday morning was "shattered" yesterday.

An unknown person or persons used a heavy object to break the window pane of the office of County Judge Kenneth A. "Buck" Douglas.

Early Sunday, District Attorney Jimmy Morris entered the vacant building to catch up on some homework. He found large fragments of glass all around the judge's office door.

The matter was reported to Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse. Upon investigation, it was discovered that nothing was missing.

Judge Douglas' secretary, Mrs. Marianna Jackson, said a second check was made of the office Monday. Again, nothing was found to be missing.

"We haven't kept money in this office in years," she explained, a wide grin coming over her face.
